“What Do You Want To Be When You Grow Up?”

Come hear a panel of dynamic professionals discuss what kind of career they are in and how they got there. Each will discuss their educational path, the pros and cons of their chosen fields and how their dwarfism plays or doesn't play a role in what they do.

Time for questions will follow, as well as a glimpse at the L.P. Professional Guide, comprised of over 75 respondents, from across the country.

Facilitator –

Ginny Foos is a lifelong member of LPA. As a mom of a High School Junior, Ginny realized she had access to a vast network of mentors who could help provide her son direction towards possible careers to pursue in college. Using social media and email, she went to work and within months had over 75 respondents to four basis questions - What do you do? How did you get there? What do you like most and least about your chosen profession? And, does your dwarfism play a role? For this regional a few of her treasured mentors have assembled to answer these same questions as well as any others that may come up.
